

Specialist in the Spotlight

Dr Kimberley Sleeman undertook her specialist training in Obstetrics and Gynaecology at the Royal Women's Hospital in Melbourne, followed by Winchester, England. On return to Australia, she completed further training with Repromed Adelaide, gaining experience in all aspects of infertility and assisted reproduction.

In 2005, she commenced practice in Mildura under the mentorship of Dr John Bowditch, then went on to open her own clinic, Mildura O&G in June 2006, where she is supported by her colleagues and team. Her areas of special interest in Gynaecology practice include infertility, IVF treatment, colposcopy and general gynaecology.

Dr Sleeman provides a full range of specialist care in all aspects of gynaecology and obstetrics for the women of Mildura and the surrounding districts and she is committed to long-term practice as a specialist in the Mildura community.

In conjunction with the Mildura Health Private Hospital and the Monash IVF team, Dr Sleeman is very pleased to provide local IVF treatment, a service which is greatly appreciated by regional patients.

Residing in Mildura with her husband and three children, Dr Sleeman has contributed to the local community with her involvement in various committees and clubs. Camping by the Murray River at Easter with friends and family is her favourite thing about living in Mildura.

MB, BS, FRANZCOG
Obstetrician and Gynaecologist

An obstetrician-gynaecologist is a specialist doctor who cares for women and specialises in pregnancy, childbirth and reproductive health. They help women before, during and after childbirth, detect sexually transmitted diseases, perform reproductive health screening and surgical procedures (such as caesareans, hysterectomies and tubal ligations). Obstetricians/gynaecologists can also give family planning advice.
